

6516209859.txt

Trying to stifle satellite radio providers is silliness and merely a reaction from an industry dependant on an old and tired technology.
Let the free market decide whether we want newer better technologies, not some sub-committee.